The 1990s was a great decade for movies, with actors like Brad Pitt, Keanu Reeves, Kathy Bates, and Denzel Washington at the top of their games. And while many of the decade's best movies are currently unavailable for streaming, there are a ton of amazing '90s flicks you can stream through Netflix, Amazon Prime, and some of the more popular streaming services on the market. Spanning comedies, dramas, sci-fi epics, and psychological thrillers, here are some great ones to consider adding to your watch list. Over streaming guides Matrix (1999) Wrapping up a decade and spawning franchises, the original film was a massive box office success and put Keanu Reeves on the map as a serious list actor. He stars as Thomas Anderson, known for his hacker alias Neo, who discovers he has a dystopian future where humanity is stuck in simulated reality and machines use human bodies as energy sources to run it. It was a movie before its time and set the stage for many other dystopian futures, warped-reality, AI-driven movies and the series that followed. Rotten Tomatoes: 88% Genre: Action, Sci-Fi Stars: Keanu Reeves, Laurence Fishburne, Carrie-Anne Moss Director: Wachowskis Rating: R Runtime: 136 Minutes Watch on Netflix Fight Club (1999) The first rule of Fight Club is... It is a phrase that has become part of popular culture thanks to this mind-bending film based on the 1996 Chuck Palahniuk novel of the same name. To add some excitement to his boring, monotony life, an unnamed narrator (Edward Norton) creates a fight club with the help of a mysterious soap seller named Tyler Durden (Brad Pitt). The film caused a lot of controversy and endless analysis of its importance, but has become one of the defining films of the generation. Rotten Tomatoes: 79% Genre: Drama Stars: Brad Pitt, Edward Norton, Helena Bonham Carter Director: David Fincher Rating: R Runtime: 139 Minutes Watch on Hulu Watch on HBO Max Silence Lambs (1991) The first of many film and television interpretations of Thomas Harris's novel and the character Dr. Hanni Lebalecter, this is the best. Dr. Lecter (Sir Anthony Hopkins) is a brilliant psychiatrist who also happens to be a cannibalistic serial killer. And while FBI trainee Clarice Starling (Jodie Foster) hopes the now captured killer can help get to mind copycat so so can track him down, Dr. Lecter relishes the opportunity to spread his knowledge in the most manipulative way. Rotten Tomatoes: 96% Genre: Crime, Drama, Thriller Stars: Jodie Foster, Sir Anthony Hopkins, Scott Glenn, Ted Levine Director: Jonathan Demme Rating: R Runtime: 118 Minutes Watch on Netflix Goodfellas (1990) A-list cast and their creative ability to ad-lib helped turn this film into one of the best ever made, both inside and out of gangsters. It centers around the real story of Henry Hill (Ray Liotta), a member of the mob, and his ascend ranks on his job as an FBI informant, which eventually led to 50 convictions. Based on the 1985 nonfiction book Wiseguy, written by Nicholas Pileggi, who co-wrote the screenplay with Martin Scorsese. The film received six Academy Award nominations, winning one for Joe Pesci. Rotten Tomatoes: 96% Genre: Biography, Crime, Drama Stars: Robert De Niro, Ray Liotta, Joe Pesci, Lorraine Bracco, Paul Sorvino Director: Martin Scorsese Rating: R Runtime: 145 Minutes Watch on Hulu The Lion King (1994) It was an animated film of the decade and was the highest grossing film of all time (adjusted for inflation, it would still sit on top of three, an impressive feat for a 2D movie.) Simba, a young lion cub, witnesses the terrifying death of his father Mufasa and thinks he is guilty. But with the help of his friends Timon and Pimba, who he meets but self-inflicted in exile, he decides to try and take back what is legitimate for him. The film has spawned many retellings, from Broadway shows to TV series, video games, and, most recently, a CGI remake. Rotten Tomatoes: 93% Genre: Animation, Adventure, Drama Stars: Matthew Broderick, Jonathan Taylor Thomas, James Earl Jones Director: Roger Allers, Rob Minkoff Rating: G Runtime: 88 Minutes To Watch on Disney + Toy Story (1995) Another successful animated film of the decade, it was the first feature movie from Pixar to be a completely computer animation. Aside from the technical miracle, a touching story became one that both children and adults equally liked. Since the original film has produced three sequels, including Toy Story 4, released in 2019. Although all four are extremely successful, the first film set the stage and won three Academy Award nominations for both screenplay and music. Rotten Tomatoes: 100% Genre: Animation, Adventure, Comedy Stars: Tom Hanks, Tim Allen, Don Rickles, Jim Varney, Wallace Shawn, John Ratzenberger, Annie Potts, John Morris, Erik von Detten Director: John Lasseter Rating: G Runtime: 81 Minutes Watch on the Disney + Green Mile (1999) Tom Hanks is Paul Hanks' Paul Edgecomb, death row corrections officer during the Great Depression, who begins to see supernatural events after hosting a mysterious young prisoner named John Coffey (the late Michael Clarke (for example , breakout role). Coffey seems to have the ability to heal others by making guards question if he really could be guilty of committing heinous crimes he was sentenced and sentenced to death. It is one of many films in a decade starring Tom Hanks (and based on Stephen King's novel), which received widespread critical acclaim. Lauded for its emotionally powerful story, the film received four Academy Award nominations, including Best Picture and Best Supporting Actor Duncan. Rotten Tomatoes: 78% Genre: Crime, Drama, Fantasy Stars: Tom Hanks, David Morse, Bonnie Hunt, Michael Clarke Duncan Director: Frank Darabont Rating: R Runtime: 189 Minutes Watch on Hulu Good Will Hunt (1997) Penned by then relatively unknown young men Ben Affleck and Matt Damon, the film solided the couple's position in Hollywood after being nominated for nine awards and two wins, including best screenplay. The story is that of a young, aimless 20-year-old, Will Hunt (Damon), who has discovered that secret genius. While undergoing therapy after an altercation with a police officer, he begins to open up To Dr. Sean Maguire (Robin Williams) while studying advanced mathematics and figuring out his future. It's a wonderful story about untapped potential and facing your inner demon to start the healing process. Rotten Tomatoes: 97% Genre: Drama, Romance Stars: Robin Williams, Matt Damon, Ben Affleck, Stellan Skarsgard, Minnie Driver Director: Gun Van Sant Rating: R Runtime: 126 Minutes Watch on HBO Max Titanic (1997) Who hasn't stood at the edge of the boat, arms stretched, claiming I'm the king of the world!? It's all from this movie, and there is still another romantic movie about forbidden love to rival the heartbreaking relationship between Jack (Leonardo DiCaprio), the poor artist on board, and Rose, a high-end woman with whom he falls in love. Based on the story of the sinking of RMS Titanic, it's the kind of movie you can watch over and over again and get choked up every time. Tied for the most Academy Award nominations ever at 14, it went on to win 11 of them (another record it tied), including Best Picture and Best Director. It was also the first film to exceed $1 billion at the box office. Rotten Tomatoes: 89% Genre: Drama, Romance Stars: Leonardo DiCaprio, Kate Winslet, Billy Zane, Kathy Bates Director: James Cameron Rating: PG Runtime: 195 Minutes Watch on HBO Max What's Eating Gilbert Grape (1993) At just 24 years old, Gilbert (Johnny Depp) spends his days working in a grocery store and caring for his morbidly obese mother Bonnie (Darlene Cates) and his mentally impaired younger brother Arnie (Leonardo DiCaprio). Earning DiCaprio his first Academy Award nomination, the actor, then just a teenager, solided his position in Hollywood with his compelling and touching performance. Rotten Tomatoes: 90% Genre: Drama Stars: Johnny Depp, Juliette Lewis, Darlene Cates, Leonardo DiCaprio, Mary Steenburgen, John C. Reilly Director: Lasse Hallstrom Rating: PG Runtime: 118 Minutes Watch on Amazon Prime Misery (1990) Based on Stephen King's novel The title of this psychological thriller takes viewers deep into the mind of a psychotic woman and nurse who takes the famous writer captive and tortures her. Claiming to be his number-one fan, she forces him to re-write his latest manuscript with the ending she prefers. Kathy Bates' terrifying portrayal of a murderous woman, including that gruesome hobbling scene to Annie Wilkes, one of the scariest TV characters ever to grace the big screen. Fun fact: Misery is the only film based on the King novel to win an Oscar. Rotten Tomatoes: 90% Genre: Drama, Thriller Stars: James Caan, Kathy Bates Director: Rob Reiner Rating: R Runtime: 107 Minutes Watch on HBO Max as good as it gets (1997) earning both Jack Nicholson and Helen Hunt Academy Award wins, this film proved that romantic comedies could be more than just predictable, cringeworthy worthy stories on dates or just with a pint of ice cream. Nicholson nails the role of an obsessive compulsive writer, but Hunt sparks serious emotions as a single mother and waitress with a chronically ill son who seems to be the only person willing to put up with his quirks. The film is ranked among Empire magazine's 500 Greatest Movies of All Time. Rotten Tomatoes: 85% Genre: Comedy, Drama, Romance Stars: Jack Nicholson, Helen Hunt, Greg Kinnear, Cuba Gooding Jr., Skeet Ulrich, Shirley Knight Director: James L. Brooks Rating: PG Runtime: 139 Minutes Watch on Netflix Groundhog Day (1993) Imagine being stuck in a time loop you can't get out, not only living the same day over and over again, but living the day that you're loathed. That's exactly what happens to grumpy meteorman Phil Connors (Bill Murray), who finds himself waking up every morning the day he's tasked with covering the annual Groundhog Day event in the small town. While there's a lot of fun as Connors tries to change something else every day in hopes that it will get him out of the loop, even trying to kill himself several times in ridiculous ways, it's a love story at its core. Rotten Tomatoes: 96% Genre: Comedy, Fantasy, Romance Stars: Bill Murray, Andie MacDowell, Chris Elliott Director: Harold Ramis Rating: PG Runtime: 101 Minutes Watch on Netflix Malcolm X (1992), a powerful activist who inspired this culturally defining film, served as an inspiration for a plot that looks like major events throughout Malcolm X's life, from his astounding work as an activist to his incarceration of marriage and exemision. With cameo appearances by Bobby Seale, co-founder of the Black Panther Party, Reverend Al Sharpton, and Nelson Mandela, the film was universally praised, with film critic Roger Ebert ranking it as his top film of the year, and Denzel Washington receiving an Academy Award nomination for his role as a title character. Rotten Tomatoes: 88% Genre: Biography, Drama, History Stars: Denzel Washington, Angela Bassett, Albert Hall, Al Freeman Jr.,Delroy Lindo, Spike Lee Director: Spike Lee Rating: R Runtime: 201 Minutes Watch on Netflix On Cryng Game (1992) shedding the spotlight on issues such as race, sex and sexuality, this thriller has been named among the greatest British films of all time by the British Film Institute. Set in Northern Ireland, it tells the story of an army man named Fergus (Stephen Rea) referring to the former love of a murdered soldier (Forest Whitaker) he was befriended. Rife with guilt, he also finds himself confused about his sexuality when he reveals the truth about Dil. Rotten Tomatoes: 94% Genre: Crime, Drama, Romance Stars: Stephen Rea, Miranda Richardson, Jaye Davidson, Forest Whitaker Director: Neil Jordan Rating: R Runtime: 111 Minutes Watch on Netflix Editors Suggestions
